Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: applicant's arguments are not persuasive. Examiner submits that it would have been obvious in view of the teachings of Asay and Fox that the certificate issuing guaranteeing party. For example, it is generally known that any trusted party may be a certificate issuing authority and Fox teaches that the certified trusted authority is a third party entity that every participant thoroughly trusts. Example certifying authorities disclosed by Fox are the federal reserve or a bank. Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention that the certifying authority may be a users bank and the certifying authority may also be used to pay the merchant.
